7 Idiom Activities to Get Your Students' Creativity Flowing

- Back to the Source
Can your class tell a creative story that shows how the idiom could have come to be? Groups of 5 get a choice of idioms & write a short story that illustrates how each idiom came to be. Then illustrate their stories.
- Picture Perfect
Choose an idiom to illustrate & divide a large sheet of paper into 2 sections. Left half is for the meaning of the idiom. Right half - a literal representation. Post the pictures around the room. Students guess which idiom is illustrated.
- A Piece of Culture
Shows 12 idioms from three native languages with the class. Each student writes down a word for word translation of an idiom in her first language and hands it to her partner. Complete all of the idioms on a sheet. make copies for each S. In groups, students guess the source (S & culture) & the meaning of each idiom.
- Gestures
Write each idiom on an index card, shuffle them. Students come to the front of the room, choose a card & act out that idiom. The rest of the class must guess which idiom it is.
- Original Idioms
Students create their own idioms. For their nonliteral phrase, they describe the situation & draw a picture. Students write the idiom on the back of their picture. Using these pictures from your cutting, students look at them & guess the idiom on their backs.
- Movie Review
In pairs, students write a movie review using as many idioms as possible. Then perform, record & read them to the class. Set aside some class time to watch the reviews. Students will enjoy their own & their classmates' hard work & entertainment.
- Improvisation
Create 8 sets of index cards - 11 idioms, 1 per card. 2 settings for the scene. 8 characters you will have to play. 20 improvise the situation. Each set of index cards is a 5-minute act. The performance is recorded. The performance is shared with the class & each student has a role to play.
